

the execute-then-log gap
no durable completion

- record intent durably: request(effect_id 42) the intent survives the worker that wrote it
 - attempt A dispatches the request
 - external commit: the world changes barrier: an effect accepted outside the orchestration boundary
 - acknowledgment lost; worker dies no completion record was ever written
 - restart reads the durable pending intent
 - attempt B retries with the same effect_id 42
 - the boundary returns the prior result, converges, or forces explicit reconciliation

Retries reuse the effect identity; new logical work receives a new key
